Marie Louis de Nonancourt, Director and Proprietor of Laurent Perrier to her son Bernard in 1945 before he took over the estate- ' You will never be a good director, unless you are a good worker'. Bernard took this to heart working at Lanson and establishing his abilities before taking over Laurent Perrier in 1949. He is the current owner and proprietor to this day.

Chardonnay

2015	Westbrook, Barrique fermented, Marlborough	$ 50.00
2014	TK Te Kairanga, Martinborough	$ 50.00
2016	Johner, Wairarapa	$ 52.00
2014	Joseph Drouhin Laforet Bourgogne Chardonnay, France	$ 58.00
2014	Silver Wing, Waipara	$ 58.00
2015	Odyssey Iliad, Gisborne	$ 60.00
2015	Nautilus, Marlborough	$ 68.00
2015	Te Mata Elston, Hawkes Bay	$ 78.00
2013	Odyssey Iliad, Gisborne Magnum	$ 99.00

2015	Neudorf "Moutere", Nelson	$ 150.00
2013	TOM Church Road, Hawkes Bay	$ 250.00

Remember Oak confers texture as much as the typical characters of vanillan and toastyness. If you like full bodied rich white wines, that will match with red meat dishes, an oaked Chardonnay is very hard to go past.

2011	M. Chapoutier Les Granits Saint Joseph, France	$	180.00

Whilst Bordeaux varieties and Syrah dominate the production of full-bodied reds in New Zealand, there is also a small but increasing number of other varieties succeeding beyond these. Sangiovese, Dolcetto and Montepulciano are planted throughout New Zealand and are doing particularly well in Matakana & Northland. There are also some exciting examples of Zinfandel & Tempranillo, primarily within the key red wine producing region of Hawke's Bay.

2007	Domaine Gachot-Monot, 1er Cru-Les Poulettes, France	$	175.00
2014	Gibbston Valley Reserve, Central Otago	$	190.00

New Zealand Pinot Noir shows the fine tannins and elegance of good Burgundy with the added excitement of vibrant, intense fruit and secondary herbal, spice and game characters. Distinct regional styles are beginning to emerge from New Zealand. The Wairarapa wines are full-bodied and dense with rich dark plum and chocolate flavours. Marlborough and Nelson show complex, tight structure with bright cherry flavours. Waipara Pinot Noir shows hints of pepper and spice whilst Central Otago are known for their herbal notes, berryfruit and firm tannins.
